ICLP offers something you can’t find in any other program. It delivers a unique, civic style of leadership – one that’s built on understanding complexity, listening to multiple perspectives and leading change. Simply stated, participants hone the skills needed to get things done in a complex environment. This is valuable for community based organizations, non-profits and government who increasingly have to navigate the intersection of community and government.

WHY ICLP?

THE NETWORK
ICLP connects participants to an accomplished community of City leaders, NYIC members and Coro alumni from all industries and sectors, who are dedicated to supporting one another and to improving the City in which we live and work.

THE KNOWLEDGE
ICLP uses Coro’s model of inquiry-based instruction to explore strategies for leveraging resources and developing partnerships. Participants can immediately apply the knowledge gained to their work and support their Community Change Project.

THE SKILLS
ICLP uses the City of New York as a classroom to explore and build effective leadership skills to adapt and thrive in challenging environments.

ARE YOU READY FOR ICLP?

ICLP offers something you can’t find in any other program. It delivers a unique, civic style of leadership – one that’s built on understanding complexity, listening to multiple perspectives and leading change. Simply stated, participants hone the skills needed to get things done in a complex environment. This is valuable for community based organizations, non-profits and government who increasingly have to navigate the intersection of community and government.

Coro is New York City’s premier civic leadership training organization and a community of 2,500 alumni in business, government, nonprofit and schools who are shaping the future of our city.
LEADERSHIP DAYS
Participants build their individual and collaborative capacity for practicing leadership. ICLP introduces an array of leadership development tools, experiences and challenges to encourage participants to explore all aspects of an issue and to lead change. Participants will connect with purpose and enhance their vision for change, apply tools from the Adaptive Leadership framework to their work and enhance their ability to work more effectively with others in addition to other leadership tools.

COMMUNITY CHANGE PROJECTS
Participants come to the program with a planned Community Change Project that seeks to strengthen their immigrant community. Throughout the program, participants have the opportunity to refine their vision, apply their learning, share project developments, receive feedback, and share successes with the group. Sharing of each person’s project, results and lessons learned will be the focus of the April showcase session.

APPLICATION & TUITION
Program fees are waived due to the generous support of our funders. Upon acceptance, a non-refundable $100 materials fee is required. The application deadline is Monday, June 11, 2018. Visit coro.nyc to apply online and learn more about the program.

ICLP PROGRAM SUPPORTERS

KEY PROGRAM FEATURES

my ICLP Experience

ICLP has enriched my life by providing me with new ways of thinking, a new set of leadership tools, and terrific connections to build a stronger community.

—Ligia Guallpa
CO-FOUNDER & DIRECTOR
Workers Justice Project

I went to the ICLP program at Coro with an open mind and left with much more than I anticipated—more resources, knowledge and connections to enhance my immigrant community work. ICLP helped me plant a much needed community market project that is developing into a local cultural hub. I have a network that welcomes me with open arms when we meet.

—Bobby Digi
FOUNDER
Island Voice, Inc.

Coro’s ICLP made me a more effective leader and strategic advocate. I continue to recommend staff and allies to ICLP because of the skills gained and networks developed. It’s a privilege to be part of this community of change agents.

—Wayne Ho
PRESIDENT & CEO
Chinese American Planning Council, Inc.

I feel blessed to have had the opportunity to take a step back and deeply reflect on my work. Starting from our leadership lifelines, Coro set us on our path to become more effective storytellers, as individuals and as a collective, giving voices to our immigrant communities.

—Jiyoon Chung
