

Tuition

Tuition for LNY is $6,000 for 175 + hours of rigorous leadership development training, individual and small group coaching, lodging and meals at the Opening Retreat, catering on retreat days and access to Coro alumni and cross-program events. You will join the most diverse and influential leadership community in NYC!

Employer/Sponsor Assistance

This is a valuable professional leadership development opportunity and many employers help fund all or some of the tuition as a way to invest in growing the leadership of key employees. Coro also has sponsorship opportunities available to organizations seeking to develop visible partnerships within the civic engagement, cross-sector or leadership development industries. This includes a reserved seat in the program.

We are happy to help you think about framing the ask with your employer and willing to chat with employers who are not familiar with the program. Some items that are helpful to share are:

- Brochure
- Organizational and Program Overview
- Employer Benefits

If you are selected for the program, you will be notified by June 5 and invited to confirm the seat by sending in a tuition commitment form by June 12 (no extensions). Organizations contributing full or partial tuition are expected to make their payments by mid-August. Please keep these dates in mind if you plan to negotiate professional development funds with your employer.

Scholarships

Scholarships ranging from $500-$3,000 are available, with special consideration for applicants paying out of pocket and with the highest need relative to the request pool.

We are committed to building cohorts that reflect the demographics of New York City and in strengthening traditionally underrepresented groups in leadership roles. We welcome applications from those with the skills and knowledge to effectively engage with a multi-perspective community.

Do not let financial concerns prevent you from applying; we are actively seeking a cohort of multiple perspectives and will work with you.

Scholarships are made available by alumni donations; we are grateful for their generosity and dedication to “paying it forward.”

Process: You will have the option to request scholarship assistance on the application. If you mark “yes,” you are asked to fill out the basic information of your monthly sources of income and expenses.

Scholarship request information is hidden during the selection process; it is not weighed in considering you for the program. Your information will be kept confidential.

External scholarship resource: If you are a nonprofit professional, you may be eligible for the TD Bank nonprofit training resource fund. Click here to learn more.

Please note, we are not an accredited institution; scholarships or tuition reimbursements with this requirement will not apply.

Payment Plans

The first payment is due by mid-August and full payment by the midpoint retreat in February. Payment plan options for participants paying out of pocket will be shared with the acceptance notification on June 5. Payment plans for organizations are generally not available.

With the exception of an unexpected medical emergency, if you leave or are asked to withdraw from the program you (not your employer) are still responsible for any remaining balance.